LEARNING
MADE SIMPLE

Working It Out

Two Friends, One Problem

Name: _____ Date: _____

Two friends. One problem.

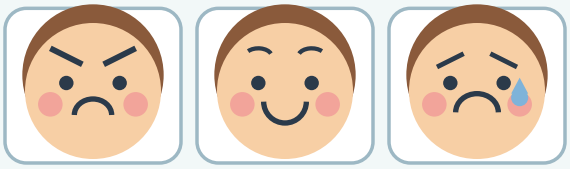

Both friends want the red crayon. There is only one.

How does she feel?

SAD MAD HAPPY

How does she feel?

MAD HAPPY SAD

Adult: Feelings can be read in more than one way. One friend may look MAD and the other SAD — or your child may see it differently. Ask: Why do you think so?

© 2026 Learning Made Simple

LEARNING
MADE SIMPLE

Working It Out

Stop, Think, Choose

Name: _____ Date: _____

When there is a problem: Stop. Think. Choose.

Two friends.
One swing.
What can they do?

STOP ▶ THINK ▶ CHOOSE

Circle the choices that could help.

USE WORDS

TAKE TURNS

SHARE

SAY SORRY

ASK A TEACHER

Adult: Words, turns, sharing the swing (swap, or one friend pushes) and asking a teacher can all help. Sorry is for when someone is hurt — not needed here.

© 2026 Learning Made Simple

LEARNING
MADE SIMPLE

Working It Out

What Could They Say?

Name: _____ Date: _____

Circle the words that could help.

The tower fell down. What could the friend say?

I'm sorry.
I didn't mean to.

It's your fault!

Let's build it again together.

You can't play here.

Adult: Read each bubble aloud. Which words would help the friends feel better? More than one bubble can help.

Made with love for little learners.

© 2026 Learning Made Simple

LEARNING
MADE SIMPLE

Working It Out

Finish the Story

Name: _____ Date: _____

Finish the story.

1

Both friends want the ball.

2

They stop and talk.

3

Draw: How does the story end?

Tell about your ending:

_____

_____

Adult: Your child draws the ending, then tells it. Write their words on the lines, exactly as they say them. Many endings work if they are kind and fair.

© 2026 Learning Made Simple