What your child is learning

These pages teach describing (Michigan Kindergarten speaking and vocabulary standards SL.K.4–K.6 and L.K.5–K.6). Your child describes familiar things in spoken sentences, adds detail, and uses precise words they have learned. Describing well matters: a listener who cannot see clearly should still know exactly what your child means.

The four telling words

How the pages grow

Page 1 — Words That Tell: one sentence for each telling word, describing a teddy bear.

Page 2 — Tell Me More: fuller descriptions of three different things, using two or more telling words each.

Page 3 — Describe and Guess: a guessing game. Precise words win the game — vague words do not.

Page 4 — My Describing Page: your child chooses and draws their own thing and describes it with no help but a small reminder strip.

Banana: “It is yellow and long. It is smooth. It has a stem.”

Ball: “It is round. It has red and white stripes. It can bounce.”

Cup: “It is blue with white dots. It is hard. It has a handle.”

How to support your child

• Write your child's exact words, even if a sentence is not perfect. This is speaking practice, not writing practice.

• Ask “Tell me more” or “What else can you tell?” instead of supplying words.

• In the guessing game, guess only from the words. If you cannot tell, ask for one more describing word — that is the lesson.

• Describe real things at home together: a spoon, a shoe, an apple. Precise words grow with use.
